Understanding Your Short-Term Disability Benefits

Am I Eligible For Coverage?

To be eligible for coverage, you must qualify as an eligible member and be considered actively at work.

You will be considered actively at work if you are able and available for active performance of all of your regular duties. Short-term absence because of a regularly scheduled day off, holiday, vacation day, jury duty, funeral leave, or personal time off is considered active work provided you are able and available for active performance of all of your regular duties and were working the day immediately prior to the date of your absence.

How Do I Qualify For Benefits?

- 1) Meet the Definition of Disability. Disabilities must be solely and directly caused by sickness, injury, or pregnancy.

Residual Disability is defined as follows:

- During the first 12 months of the disability, you will be considered disabled if you cannot perform the substantial and material duties of your own job; or
- You are performing the duties of your own job on a modified basis or any job and are unable to earn more than 80% of your predisability income.

- 2) Satisfy the Elimination Period. The amount of time you must be disabled before receiving benefits is called the elimination period. Benefits begin on the 8th day when due to injury and begin on the 8th day when due to sickness. The elimination period can be satisfied with days of total or partial disability.

How Much Weekly Benefit Will I Receive?

Your benefits will be determined by using your base wage with bonus and commissions.

The benefit payment period is the length of time you will receive benefits for a qualifying disability after the elimination period is satisfied. When you are unable to work in any capacity during the benefit payment period, your primary weekly benefit is equal to 60% of your predisability earnings, up to $500. Your primary weekly benefit less income from other sources is the benefit amount you will receive. Your benefit amount will never be less than the $15 minimum benefit.

Benefits if Working If you are able to work while disabled, you may still be eligible to receive a disability benefit.

SHORT-TERM DISABILITY

If you are working during the benefit payment period, your benefit amount equals your primary weekly benefit, less income from other sources, less 50% of your current earnings.

You must work to your full medical and vocational capacity. If you choose not to, your benefits will be paid as if you are working to your full capacity.

Income you receive from other sources can be deducted from your primary weekly benefit. For a complete list of other sources, please refer to your booklet. Other sources may include: All retirement or disability benefits that you and your dependents receive or could have received from Social Security or other government agencies/ Salary continuance, personal time off or sick pay / Workers' Compensation benefits / Income from state disability plans / Disability or retirement benefits paid by pension plans sponsored by the policyholder / Income received from no-fault auto laws / Severance pay / All payments for the month that the member receives under state unemployment laws.

How Long Will I Receive My Benefits?

You are eligible to receive short-term disability benefits for 12 weeks after the elimination period is satisfied.

Your disability benefits will end when you: Recover / Cease to be under the regular and appropriate care of a physician / Fail to provide any required proof of disability / Fail to submit to a required medical examination / Fail to report income from other sources, or any other required earnings information / Fail to pursue Social Security disability benefits or Workers' Compensation benefits / Die.

If you recover and return to work for 30 days or less during the benefit payment period and then again become disabled from the same or related cause, you are not required to satisfy a new elimination period.

What Additional Benefits Are Included?

Rehabilitation Plan	While disabled, you may qualify to participate in a rehabilitation plan. Our rehabilitation staff works with you, your physician(s) and your employer to create an individual rehabilitation plan to assist you in returning to work. If you are not disabled, but have a condition that could prevent you from performing the substantial and material duties of your own job, preventive rehabilitation services may be offered.
Rehabilitation Incentive Benefit	The Rehabilitation Incentive Benefit can increase the primary weekly benefit by 5% if you become totally disabled and participate in and satisfy the requirements of an individual rehabilitation plan.
Mandatory Rehabilitation	Your Mandatory Rehabilitation provision indicates that, if appropriate, you may be required to participate in an individual rehabilitation plan.

What Are The Restrictions Of My Coverage?

This Benefit Summary is a summary only. For a complete list of benefit restrictions, please refer to your booklet.
